his opposition to Senate action, members of the Democratic Policy Committee met and reaffirmed their unanimous support of the resolution which they had joined him in offering.

"This resolution is offered with the greatest goodwill by members of the policy committee representing every political spectrum," he said. "In no way is it an attempt to dictate to the President or to undermine his responsibility or authority in this field. It would be simply a recommendation by the Senate for action toward an ultimate objective."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — That audience which seeks to escape the problems and tensions of contemporary life via the television route should have been tuned in on NBC Thursday night where two new series had their premieres.

Even they could have had one of two reactions to the new "Tarzan" series. Hysterical laughter or simple incredulity. There was tall, well-muscled Ron Ely, in his loin cloth and swinging around on vines even when it would have been easier to take the lower route.

All the trappings seemed pretty silly even for a children's show, but there was also the plot. It seems that there was this pretty blond girl who had been living comfortably in a forest loaded with tigers, snakes and crocodiles with the help of her—get this, dakari,—devoted seeing-eye lion.

This lovable, helpful lion unfortunately had a bad twin and a whole tribe of natives were out to get him. Naturally there was confusion between the good lion and the bad lion, the girl was in danger and Tarzan arrived just in time to save everything.

All this, and the show was poorly acted to boot. "Tarzan," it seems inevitable, will be a big hit.

This was followed by "Star Trek," which had the captain and medical officer of a 21st century space ship dropping down on a decaying planet, M-113, for a routine health check on an earthling archeologist and

Gold Medallion Home

Wouldn't you really expect she did? After all, Ruth Trafford has her title "Mrs. Arkansas" for being an outstanding homemaker — and one of the things that set today's modern women apart is their preference for the modern, flameless way to cook.

And what a kitchen Mrs. Arkansas has in her beautiful Gold Medallion Home! Total electric, of course it's a place where meal planning and preparation turn into pleasant time saving activities — and that's important to a woman who not only carries on her work as a homemaker, but has a family to look after. Mrs. Trafford says, "I've always enjoyed cooking, but never so much as now — I think this flameless range makes me a better cook."

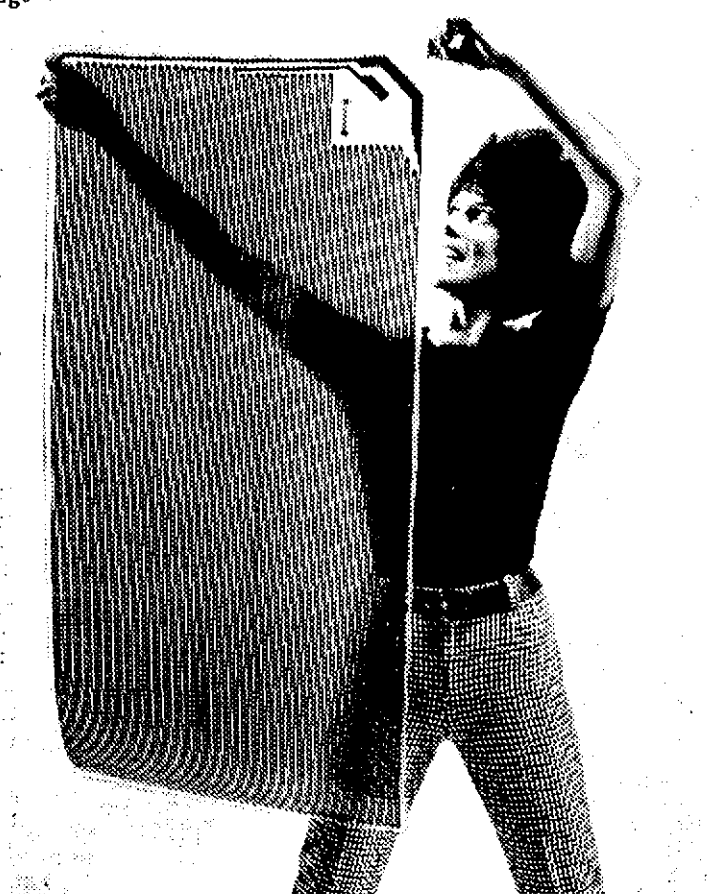

Why not start living the outstanding homemaker's way with electric cooking?

APPL's new line is featuring Flameless Ranges with built-in cook-top prices this month, so be sure to take advantage of this offer. Not only arrange for the $30 installation allowance, but also arrange for the purchase on your bill.

Consisting of paper-thin steel foil laminated to epoxy film and etched to form the electrical circuit displayed here, the 2-by-4-foot units are attached to the backs of steel panels designed to fit into standard frames of a suspended ceiling. The sheets already are being used as the sole heat sources for several schools in New Hampshire.

Wants Forces Cut Back in Europe

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite President Johnson's opposition, Sen. Mike Mansfield said today he intends to press his attempt to put the Senate record for substantial reductions of U.S. forces in Europe.
But the Senate Democratic leader said in an interview he will leave it to the Senate to decide whether the resolution urging the cutback should be the subject of public hearings.
The Montana senator previously planned to call up the resolution without such hearings. But Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen objected, contending that the issues involved are too complex for the Senate to act until it knows where it is going.
Johnson told a news conference last Thursday he doesn't think "this involved problem can be solved by Senate resolutions." He said there must be consultation and agreement with U.S. allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) over necessary military strength and how to apportion it.

Mansfield said he is in complete accord that there must be allied consultation and that the United States could not afford to act alone to reduce its troop contribution.

"But the European nations have been acting unilaterally in regard to their responsibilities in this matter," he said. "Some of them have abolished conscription, at least one of them France is withdrawing its troops and others are failing to fulfill their commitments to NATO."

"I hope this is a matter we have been discussing periodically with them for the last 20 years but if it is, we seem to have made little progress."

Mansfield said that on the day Johnson made known publicly

PUSHY PARENTS BEGET POKY PROGENY

Dear Helen: I was amused at your article on Science Project Blues last April, but neglected to send my say-so until now.

Reminds me of the time our oldest son was picked by the High School Science Department to be a judge at the Grade School Science Fair. The requirements were good marks and no relatives in that school.

Well, the student judges passed up a professionally done piece of work, with a taped explanation accompanying it, for — as my son said — an "icky work, but one done by the KID and not his parents." I suppose the parents who worked so hard to win their child a prize felt like tarring and feathering our judges.

This is only one instance. In our town I see so much parental involvement with homework and projects, and so much competition between parents — not kids — that I have all but dropped out of club activities.

We all know what Little League has become — in certain areas: the Little Bigtime, with "winning for dear old Dad" the thing, not fun or sportsmanship.

But how about the "pine box derby?" This year the kids' cars were made by their engineer fathers. The poor youngsters who made their own cars were laughed out of Scouts.

Our own solution to the problem of over-nudging is to go according to the child's wishes. After a freshman year of pushing and prodding our first son, we decided that if he was not motivated by more than Mom and Dad, he'd never make it and we had better face up to it sooner than later.

The second year we didn't mention school work at all and his marks rose accordingly. Math which had been his bugaboo, came up best of all. Now he has a four year scholarship to engineering college.

Our second son is going through this same state and deciding it's better to do, than have done for him.

What are your thoughts on the subject? — M.V.

Dear M: Your thoughts are my thoughts: Pushy parents beget poky kids. — H.

aged bachelor, living alone. My problem is this: I am not only losing the hair on my head, but on my chest as well. What can I do? My doctor doesn't help me. He says I am neurotic. — H.T.

Dear H.: I'll take his word for it. Don't just sit there and fret about your hairy problem. Consider the bald eagle — he's still a high flyer.

(And yes, I KNOW the bald eagle actually has light feathers on his head, but it's a good illusion anyway.) — H.

Dear Helen: My wife went to work in a furniture factory, and since then everything has gone wrong. She will primp for half an hour during the work week, but won't even fix her hair on the weekends. All she has for me is contempt, as I am a disabled war veteran. She has no interest in me or her home. What should I do? — Fred

Dear Fred: I wish I knew! For some questions, the only answer is Wait and hope. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen Help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

Oklahoma Girl Is Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — They're dancing in the streets in Oklahoma but it looks like the Sooners will have to wait at least a week to welcome home their winner.

Jane Ann Jayroe, a basketball-bouncing, baton-wielding brunette from Laverne, Okla., today begins to find out the rigors of being Miss America.

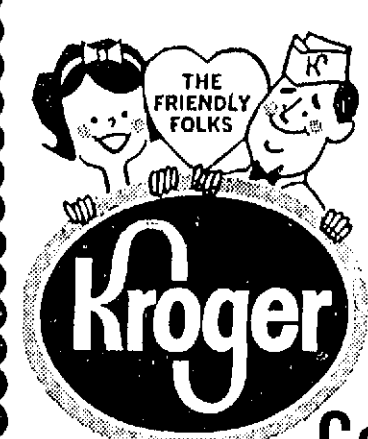

From the moment she was crowned Miss America of 1967 Saturday night here, she has faced one camera flash after another. Today she goes to Philadelphia for a television interview.

Then starting tonight, she'll spend at least a week in New York taking the first steps of her 200,000-mile journey as Miss America. Her personal appearances will bring her an estimated $75,000, but, above all, she's looking forward to the experience.

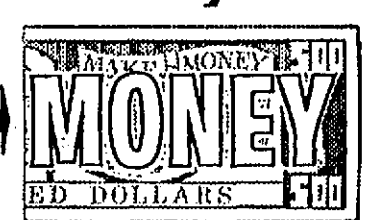

For example, she has never traveled in an airplane. "I'm looking forward to it," she said Sunday. "But with butterflies."

Oklahoma seems impatient for her triumphant return. As the news came to her hometown of 1,937 inhabitants, horns blew, people shouted. Even the fire sirens sounded.

And celebrations were held all around the state. Oklahoma City University students indicated they might walk out of their classes.

American League Some Fighter

The American League race is tightening up.
 Oh, not for the pennant, of course, Baltimore's grip on that is as tight as ever. But the battle for second place, the only one in the league worth mentioning, is beginning to have its oomphs.
 Detroit, in second place since Sept. 21, was dislodged Sunday, losing a 5-1 beating from Kansas City, Minnesota. In the meantime, took a half-game edge over the Tigers with an 11-1 pounding of none other than the Orioles.
 For one mighty inning, the Danny Turner, 27, Hope halfback tries to keep his balance as he scoots for a gain with Prescott players all around him. In the bottom photo the Bobcats punt to the Wolves. But it was all in vain for both teams as the contest ended in a 6-all tie.

Twins were the hitters they were a year ago, when they slugged their way to the pennant. Baltimore was rolling along with a 4-2 lead in the eighth inning, when Minnesota sent 14 men up to the plate and nine of them crossed it.
 Harmon Killebrew, the second man up, hit a two-run homer, his 35th, tying the game, then watched as Bernie Allen, and Al Worthington drove in two each and Tony Oliva knocked in one. Harmon came up again and singled in another one and Ted Uhlaender added the final score with an infield single.
 It was the biggest inning of the season for the Twins, who have won five straight games and 11 of their last 13. Minnesota is now 10 games behind the Orioles and the Tigers are 10½ back.
 In other American League games, Chicago beat Washington 4-1, California crushed

Cleveland 8-2 and New York took Boston 4-2 in 10 innings.
 In the National League, St. Louis beat Pittsburgh 4-3, Chicago split with San Francisco 4-3 and 0-2, Los Angeles took two from Houston 4-0 and 1-0, Atlanta bounced New York 8-3, and Philadelphia smashed Cincinnati 9-3.
 Lew Krausse set down the Tigers on three hits as the A's breezed to their fourth victory in a row. Danny Cater drove in two runs with a single, Roger Repoz knocked in another with a triple and Dick Green added one with a double.
 Fred Klages, in his first major-league start, drove in a run and limited the Senators to two hits in the five innings he worked as the Senators dropped their sixth straight.

Littler Is Winner in Akron Open

by JOE MOOSHIL
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Gene Littler came in the back door and walked out the front with a $50,000 check Sunday by winning the World Series of Golf on the first hole of a dramatic three-way playoff.
 After apparently having blown the whole bit with a double bogey 7 on the 16th hole, Littler took Jack Nicklaus and Al Geiberger into the first extra hole and the man who shouldn't have been there crushed their hopes by sinking a 22-foot birdie putt that won the fifth annual series.
 Littler, who gained a World Series berth only because of a pileup of victories by Nicklaus and Billy Casper, appeared to be home free when he took a two-stroke lead into the par 5, 625-yard 16th hole. Then things started to happen.
 Littler shanked his third shot like a common duffer and finished with his two-over-par 7. Nicklaus, his killer instinct stirred, rammed home a 12-foot birdie putt to climb into a tie for the lead and Geiberger got into the act with a 16-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole.
 World Series officials had to dig deep to get Littler in order to assure a foursome for the series. Nicklaus won both the Masters and the British Open. Casper won the U.S. Open to qualify. And Geiberger made it with a victory in the PGA.
 The first alternate tournament

HOPE (ARK.) STAR. Printed by Offset

ment because of Nicklaus' double victory was the Western Open. That was wiped out by a Casper victory, so Littler made it only because he won last year's Canadian Open.
 Firestone, which extends 7,180 yards and has a par of 35, 35-70, exacted its toll from the four champions. Nicklaus and Casper managed to equal par 70 Saturday while Littler and Geiberger fell one shot behind. But Sunday's scores were Littler 72, Geiberger 72, Nicklaus 73, Casper 74.

Doves Beginning to Get Smart

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — State game officials say there

Clay Has No Trouble With German

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Clay, fresh from his latest ring conquest, smiled at cheering fans and pushed back the right sleeve of his dark blue suit to exhibit his puffed right hand.
 "Maybe I got a fractured right hand," Clay told newsmen who were waiting Sunday at O'Hare International Airport when the unmarked, 24-year-old champion returned from West Germany.
 Saturday, Clay stopped Karl Mildenberger in 1:30 of the 12th round to defend his heavyweight title for the sixth time.
 He said he will visit a doctor today to determine how badly his hand was injured in the third round of the battle with Mildenberger — who lasted as long with the fast, hard-hitting Clay as anyone except George Chuvalo, who went 15 rounds before Clay won a decision.

 "If my right hand is okay and everything else — the usual money matters and such — are agreed upon, I will fight Cleveland Williams in Texas in a couple of months," Clay said.
 He was asked if any other fights were planned. "It's up to my manager, Herbert Muhammad, to decide," Clay replied.
 Clay, who smashed Mildenberger to the deck in the fifth eighth and 10th rounds, said he was ready for the German's southpaw style.
 The TKO was the 21st knockout for Clay who, unbeaten in 26 pro fights, made his fourth title defense in six months.

Sunday's Stars
BATTING — Tony Oliva, Twins, rapped a home run, three singles and a sacrifice fly, scored three runs and drove in three while lifting his American League-leading batting mark to .320 as Minnesota drubbed Baltimore 11-6.
PITCHING — Bob Bolin, Giants, stopped Chicago on three hits and struck out eight in a 2-0 victory that earned San Francisco a doubleheader split with the Cubs.

Green Bay Victorious Over Colts

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Lee Roy Caffey plays linebacker for Green Bay and hide
'n' seek against Baltimore.

Caffey won at the kiddie game against Johnny Unitas when he swiped a second-period pass and fumbled 52 yards for the touchdown that triggered the Packers' 24-3 victory over the Colts
Saturday night.

The National Football League opener matched the opponents in last season's memorable Western Conference playoff and the Packers, who squeezed through last December with Unitas sidelined, won easily this time.

They did it by embarrassing Baltimore's restless quarterback, with three interceptions, two of them providing touchdowns in the final moments of the first half.

Unitas, who sat out the 1965 championship game with a bad knee, was leading 3-0 late in the second period when he threw a pass intended for Raymond Berry.

"I never saw Caffey," Unitas said later. "Berry was wide open when I looked."

It was Caffey who was wide open when Unitas threw. The 250-pound linebacker, who can run the 100 in a fraction over 10 seconds, dashed 52 yards for the touchdown.

In Sunday's opener, Cleveland ripped Washington 38-14,
Los Angeles spoiled Atlanta's debut 19-14, Detroit upset Chicago 14-3, St. Louis outlasted Philadelphia 15-13, Minnesota refused to let the San Francisco 20-20, and New York and Pittsburgh battled to a 34-34 deadlock.

Cleveland, the defending Eastern Conference champion who played for the first time without the retired Jimmy Brown, looked listless in the first half against Washington, but Frank Ryan pulled the Browns together with three touchdown passes and Cleveland turned three interceptions and a recovered fumble into touchdowns for the victory.

Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals for Los Angeles and the Rams held on to beat fledgling Atlanta.

Detroit, winless in five exhibitions, stunned Chicago, scoring both its touchdowns in the second period. Tom Nowatzke wiped out a 3-0 Bear lead with a six-yard run and then Milt Plum hit Pat Studstill on a 25-yard pass for another score. After that, the Lions' defense stifled Chicago's attack.

When a convention gets into full swing, the whole city becomes a hic town.

Old gals who love flattery never get it from their mirrors.

Baylor Makes Syracuse Look Easy

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Top-ranked Alabama has two more weeks in which to get ready, but most of college football's other pre-season powerhouses take the plunge into regular competition this Saturday.

And after what happened to Syracuse against Baylor last Saturday, the plunge could be just that for some of the highly regarded clubs.

A sensational performance by Terry Southall led Baylor to a 35-12 rout over the seventh-ranked Orangeman in the season's first major game and left Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder stunned.

Southall fired four touchdown passes and completed 14 of 28 attempts for 229 yards, leaving Syracuse's defenses in a shambles.

"He is the best quarterback I ever played against," said Art Walden. "Baylor was ready for this game, and we weren't. We played like a two-bit ball club, and so we got beat."

Floyd Little gained 96 yards and scored both Syracuse touchdowns, but it was small solace for Schwartzwalder who now has two weeks in which to pull his club together for its Sept. 24 game against UCLA.

That's the same day Paul (Bear) Bryant's defending national champions from Alabama open their season against Louisiana Tech.

"I know we've been married 14 years, Frederick, but it wouldn't hurt to get a computer's opinion!"

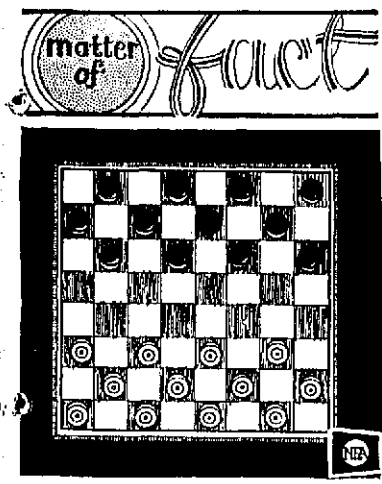

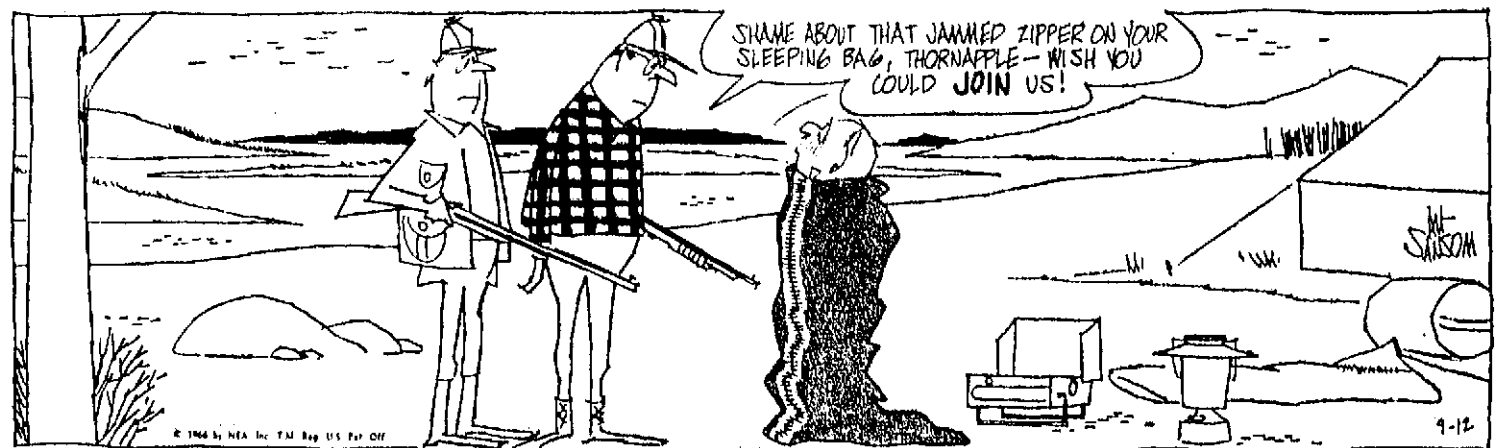

"Give it to me straight, Doctor! Is it covered by Blue Cross?"

THE BORN LOSER

By ART SANSON

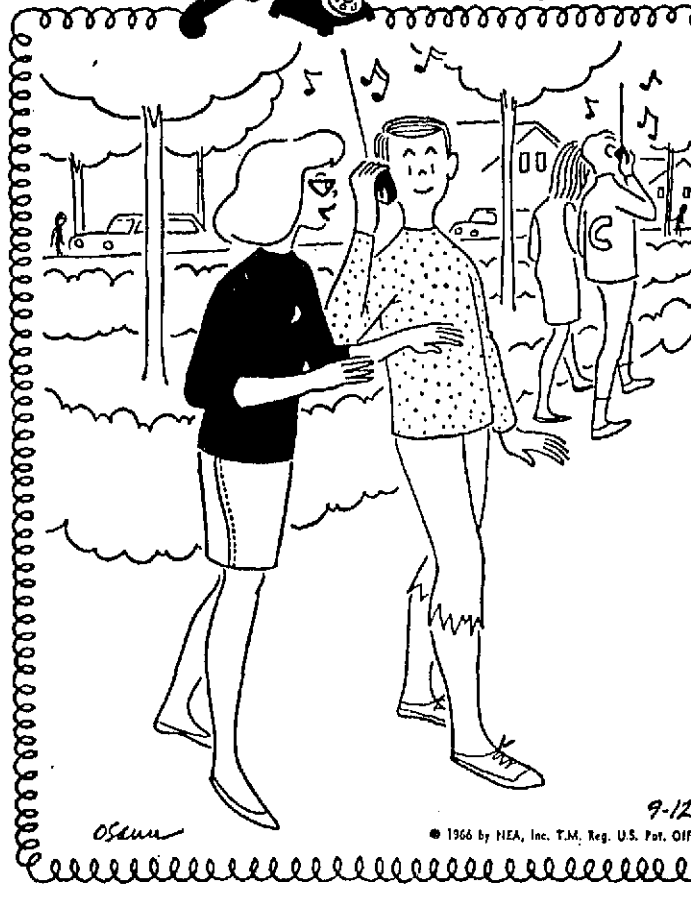

Checkers, known as draughts in Great Britain, is one of the world's oldest intellectual pastimes. Checkers was played in the days of the early Egyptian pharaohs and there is reason to believe that it is older than chess. Plato and Homer both mention checkers in their works. The Romans imported it from Greece. The earliest publications on record show the conventional checker board still in use today.

North and South both bid their hands with reckless abandon. North had a mere ten points for his two diamond response but was still able to find a second bid while South with a complete minimum opening and a fair six-card suit jumped to game. West opened the king of hearts. East played the queen and won the second lead of a low heart with his jack. South ruffed the third heart and led a spade to dummy's king. As you can see the hand is a cinch from this point on. Trumps and diamonds break and the club finesse is going to work. South will lose a diamond but can't lose another trick. Or can he?

South, an unlucky expert type, managed to find a way to go down. He started by taking the club finesse. He decided that play was more likely to work than to try to establish diamonds for a discard. Then he played his ace of trumps. West dropped the jack and South looked at it carefully. Then he played his ace of clubs, entered dummy with the king of clubs, led the last heart and ruffed. East let his queen of clubs go on that fourth heart. Then South played a diamond to the ace and played a low diamond from dummy. East dropped the seven on the first diamond lead and won the second with the king. Then East led his eight of spades. South had played the whole hand to reach this position. It looked to him as if East's other card was the ten of spades. South played the nine and West made his ten spot.

Given A Billion.
What Would You Do?

Given $1 billion to spend on education, what would you do with it?

We know what we would do. We would spend it to provide the best kindergartens possible in the worst neighborhoods we could find. We would like to see what would happen if the curse of disadvantage could be tempered between the ages of four and six.

But maybe the teachers have a better idea. Trendex, the polling service, asked a cross-section of them much the same question, and got the following answers: Most of the teachers (62 per cent) gave the top priority to teaching equipment — books, audio-visual aids, etc. Four in 10 said they would concentrate their spending on better school buildings. Only 22 per cent mentioned increased salaries, and of those who did, most of them put it at the end of their lists.

These are not what we would have expected, and we confess to pleasant surprise. In what other profession, we wonder, would so many of the members give so much emphasis to what they need to do their jobs and so little to what they expect to get for their talents? — Charleston (W.Va.) Daily Mail

Graduates Illiterates

The mere achievement of a certain level of education does not guarantee literacy, as city councilmen in Detroit found out recently. To their dismay, they discovered that some high school graduates could not read well enough to comprehend their diplomas. This came to light in the Mayor's Special Youth Employment Project, an anti-poverty effort to retrain jobless youngsters. In a group of 2,200 out-of-school unemployed youths, 84 per cent were high school graduates, but a shocking number of them could not read at the 2nd grade level. Many flunked 7th grade arithmetic tests.

One despairing Councilman asked: "How have these young people been allowed to receive certificates of graduation when their academic skills are at elementary level?" Another commented that the need for the project raised "a very serious question about the effectiveness of our educational system." As indeed it does. It would be unwise to assume that the situation discovered in Detroit is unique. — Montgomery (Ala.) Alabama Journal

Gnats To Gnats

A gnat is gnoothing gnue. It's a gnasty little gnootual gnulsance that gnibbles on you as if you were gnuitritious, bites your gnueck, and sometimes flies up your gnose. Gnow the U.S. Department of Agriculture has awarded a $42,165 grant to Virginia Polytechnic Institute for the study of gnats; looking hopefully to their eradication.

It's a gnominal sum to meet a gnootable gnueed, and if it works it could apply also to their gnieeces and gnephews. Good gnues tonight! — Nashville (Tenn) Banner

City Progress and Problems Are Discussed

"Our City, It's Problems and Progress" was the program presented by Robert LaGrone at the Hope Rotary Club meeting on Friday at the Town and Country. He gave some tongue-in-cheek examples of problem-solving by the federal government, and he stressed the importance of citizens becoming better informed.

Advantages we in Hope enjoy through a profitable city government were listed by the speaker and included: no occupational tax, no city automobile tax, free services to the city totaling $55,000 a year, reduced electric rates, and surplus funds to assist in building an addition to the library, the vocational-technical school, and a new grade school.

President Paul Klipsch welcomed visiting Rotarians John Hawkins and John Blondell, Texarkana; Frank Garrett, Oxnard, Calif.; O. W. Watkins, Prescott. Other guests given a welcome were Dr. Lloyd Guerin and Crit Stuart, Jr.

Violence Again Erupts in Atlantic

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Racial violence-accentuated by relieving marches—erupted in a predominantly Negro area of Atlanta for two straight nights.

Injuries were light in the rioting that continued until calm was restored early today. Several arrests were made.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. threw open the doors of his office and appealed to Negro leaders to present their problems and possible solutions to the violence.

Allen, who waded into the middle of riots in his city Tuesday and Saturday, rushed to the scene again Sunday night after a blazing fire bomb signaled the beginning of more violence.

Only a few hours earlier he had offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the death of Hubert Vorner, 16.

Sporadic violence punctured the rioting Sunday night and intermittently fractured a volatile, unspoken truce brought about largely through the efforts of Negro and white ministers and social workers.

The Saturday night rioting, several miles away from that of Tuesday, was spawned by the death of Vorner and the wounding of a companion, Roy Milton Wright, also 16.

Investigators reported a car carrying a white man and a white woman had slowly passed when shots rang out felling the youths.

Witnesses' accounts led officers to believe the gunman apparently thought his companion had been insulted by Vorner and Wright.

Gemini 11 Shot Gets Off and Astronauts Start Satellite Stalk

AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 11 astronauts, swift hunters in the sky, accomplished man's quickest rendezvous of high-flying space vehicles today as a dramatic prelude to three adventurous days in space.

They caught and captured an Agena target satellite before they completed their first orbit of the globe.

"We are docked," exclaimed Gemini 11 command pilot Charles Conrad Jr.

"Beautiful," Mission Control said to the spacemen.

The rendezvous occurred approximately 185 miles above the Pacific Ocean and the word was relayed by the pilots when they passed over a tracking station at Point Arguello, Calif.

Conrad and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. accomplished the quick first-orbit rendezvous nearly three hours and two orbits faster than any previous Gemini flight.

They skillfully steered their tiny spaceship through a series of maneuvers as they pursued the Agena over an 18,000-mile course, catching it above the Pacific Ocean some 80 minutes after they rode a thundering Titan 2 rocket from Cape Kennedy.

About 10 minutes later, at 11:15 a.m. (EST), high over the United States, Conrad gently slipped the Gemini nose into a docking collar on one end of the Agena.

Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to awaken early, about 5 a.m. EST, to prepare for a 9:26 a.m. blastoff atop a Titan 2 rocket.

Ninety-seven minutes earlier, at 7:49 a.m., an Atlas rocket is to hurl an Agena satellite into orbit as a target for Gemini 11. Conrad and Gordon plan a hot pursuit, aiming to catch and capture the Agena before they complete one orbit of the globe.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said weather should be satisfactory in the Cape Kennedy area, although some morning showers were forecast.

Troubles with both rockets stymied efforts to launch Gemini 11 on Friday and Saturday. Ironically, both the Titan 2 and Atlas could have been launched without hurting the mission. But officials didn't know this at the time the problems cropped up.

A pinhole leak in the Titan 2 was plugged with less than a penny's worth of "water glass," a hard-seal substance sold in hardware and drug stores.

An erroneous signal that halted the Atlas countdown Saturday was traced to an unusual combination of wind direction and the rapid opening and closing of fuel valves that created vibration.

In one of the most unusual "fizzes" in Cape Kennedy's history, two men stood for hours at the 80-foot level of the Atlas service tower and pushed against the rocket.

This "rocket rocking" simulated the wind striking it, while other technicians operated the valves.

By doing this, they duplicated the erroneous signal received in the blockhouse, and Air Force and NASA officials decided they had no problem after all. They said a highly-sensitive recorder also contributed to the wrong reading.

The signal had indicated that two of the Atlas booster engines were not responding properly to guidance commands.

A two-day delay was mandatory after the countdown was stopped Saturday because of the need to reserve power-producing fuel cells that had been activated in the Gemini 11 spacecraft.

Conrad and Gordon planned a series of swift, orbit-shifting maneuvers to overtake the Agena after an 80-minute chase at 17,500 miles an hour.

Court Rules Confession Voluntary

by BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that Clarence Stewart Jr., 23, voluntarily confessed to the 1959 slaying of a white merchant in North Little Rock.

Stewart, a Negro, had appealed a death sentence contending that his confession was not voluntary.

The Supreme Court opinion affirmed a Pulaski Circuit Court jury verdict in the fatal stabbing of William Caldwell, 79, an auto parts dealer who was killed Jan. 8, 1959.

This case and the issue of Stewart's confession was decided in a previous Supreme Court ruling March 2, 1964. The earlier case was reversed by a federal court under a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that the trial judge and not the jury should determine whether a defendant's confession was voluntary.

On Nov. 17, 1965, the state produced four witnesses who testified that Charles Tracy, a State Police investigator; Ray Vick, chief of police at North Little Rock; Capt. Paul McDonald of the State Police, and Frank Holt, who was prosecuting attorney when Caldwell was slain.

Attorneys for Stewart then argued that "we are not so much concerned with the physical violence to the defendant as we are with the subtle means of getting him to confess. We think such means were taken."

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby held that the confession was voluntary and the Supreme Court today agreed.

The Supreme Court rejected contentions that recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions had cast Stewart's confession in a new light. The court said the federal court had refused to make its decisions retroactive.

The rulings in question spelled out a suspect's right to counsel and procedures that police must follow in questioning a suspect in a case involving another prison inmate, the Supreme Court held that Desha Circuit Court acted properly in holding that the guilty plea of Robert Lee Burks was voluntary.

Burks was convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to three years in prison.

His appeal contended that he was intimidated, forced to sign statements and told to plead guilty by prison officials. He was serving a 15-year sentence for assault and with intent to kill when he was tried on the grand larceny charge filed in connection with a car theft while he was an escapee from the prison.

Two Persons Die in State Accident

A two-car collision at Tuckerman has claimed the lives of two persons. They were among four killed over the weekend from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday, an Associated Press count showed today.

Bobby Joe Hodges, 34, of Newport, and Mary Jane Rice, 50, of Austin, Ind., were killed in the crash on U.S. 67 shortly before midnight Saturday.

State Trooper Billy Davis said the Rice woman was riding in a car driven by Raleigh Rice, 29, also of Austin.

Brewer Sloan, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershal Sloan of the Mount Hope community in Logan County, was killed Saturday when he was struck by a rural mail truck driven by Ray Kuykendall of Ratcliff, State Police said.

State Trooper R. H. Williams said Terrell Rice, 14, of Mulberry was killed Saturday night when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Billy Price, about 17, also of Mulberry. The accident occurred in the Mulberry city limits.

Heaviest Air Strikes of War by U. S.

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam with the heaviest raids of the war Sunday, the U.S. command announced.

B-52 bombers struck today at North Vietnamese troops in the demilitarized zone in follow-up raids to tactical strikes made Sunday by Air Force Canberra and Phantom bombers.

A U.S. spokesman said American pilots flew a record 171 missions against the Communist North hitting at bridges, fuel depots and transportation facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas and the southern Panhandle.

Pilots taking part in Sunday's raids reported damaging or destroying 107 cargo barges, 11 junks, 19 bridges, 38 supply buildings, 13 trucks and one missile site.

Over South Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew 363 strike sorties Sunday, claiming more than 200 enemy bunkers, tunnels, huts, trenches and fortified positions were destroyed or damaged. A sortie is a single combat mission by a single plane.

Ground action in South Viet Nam continued in a lull and United States and Vietnamese military spokesmen reported no major enemy contacts.

The 171 air missions over the North was well over the previous high of 156 raids of Aug. 26. A U.S. spokesman would not say how many individual plane strikes the 171 missions involved but such large numbers would almost certainly mean 400 to 500 single-plane sorties.

In raids Sunday against the demilitarized zone, Air Force B-57 Canberras and F-4C Phantoms reported touching off 55 secondary explosions and eight secondary fires.

This indicated bomb hits on North Vietnamese ammunition and fuel dumps in the once neutral buffer zone between North and South Viet Nam.

These raids in the northern half of the zone were followed by the B-52 strikes today in the southern half, which were aimed at North Vietnamese troop concentrations.

Anti-inflation Package to Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials carry a key portion of President Johnson's anti-inflation package before the House Ways and Means Committee today.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler was to be the first witness as the committee opened hearings on Johnson's proposals, to be followed by Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Budget Director Charles L. Schultz.

The President recommended legislation Thursday to suspend for 16 months the 7 per cent investment credit given to industry for outlays on new plants and equipment.

Johnson also urged a temporary end to the rapid write-off for federal tax purposes of depreciation on new commercial and industrial buildings.

Fowler has opposed such action in the past, saying it would be a breach of faith with industry and a delayed-action device whose effect may not be felt for about a year when its effect may be harmful instead of helpful.

But he said Saturday the proposal will have some effect in reducing credit demand. He declined to estimate how much.

Businessmen generally have been critical of the administration proposals although some, including the top officers of the Chase Manhattan Bank—second largest in the United States—with $15 billion in assets—have endorsed the program.

Business leaders are scheduled to begin testimony before the Ways and Means Committee on Wednesday.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., introduced the legislation soon after Johnson sent Congress a special message.

Big Turnout in Viet Nam Election, Could Mean Defeat for Reds

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON, 7 1/2 South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today that 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's voters had turned out for the national elections which spelled "the beginning of the end for the Communists."

"We now have the conditions for final victory," the premier said at a gala diplomatic and press conference at which all members of the ruling military council appeared.

The new assembly of 117 representatives elected to write a new constitution will meet Sept. 26 and Ky said they should finish their work "as soon as possible."

The new assembly, as announced by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, who was in charge of the elections, included 22 teachers, 20 military men, 18 civil servants, 17 provincial councillors, 15 professional people, eight farmers, three judges and three others.

Only one woman, of 18 female candidates, was successful. The average age of the assembly is 40.

Gen. Thang said that on election day there were 5,289,652 eligible voters. Of this number 4,274,812 went to the polls.

Thang admitted that among the voters some cast blank ballots of protest, but said the number was far smaller than the 15 per cent who cast defaced ballots in the 1965 provincial elections. He gave no figure however.

Ky, resplendent in a black tailored uniform, lavender neck scarf and six rows of bright ribbons on his chest, said the elections were "a victory of the entire free world against the efforts of evil forces to enslave mankind."

"Never before have the Communists tried as hard to sabotage anything as they did yesterday," Ky said. "Never before have they failed as yesterday."

"This announces the beginning of the end for the Communists," he added. The results, Ky exulted "were beautiful" but he said: "We have not yet achieved the final victory. There are many obstacles before us and the more we achieve success the more the enemy will redouble his efforts."

"However," he added, "this victory permits us to believe in final victory. We do now have the conditions for final victory."

Ky was followed by chief of state Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu.

Marine Gives Medal to Comrade

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Marine who won the Purple Heart in Viet Nam has given it to a dead comrade who didn't.

Tom Klein and John Egerly, both 21, enlisted in the Marine Corps together. Both went to Viet Nam.

Klein stepped on a mine, shattering both his legs. One was amputated.

Egerly was hit by lightning while standing guard near Da Nang. Because it wasn't a combat injury, he did not receive the Purple Heart.

Still in his wheelchair, Klein attended Egerly's funeral in Dowagiac recently. He rolled up to the casket and pinned his medal on the dead Marine's pillow.

"I figure anyone who has guts enough to fight over there deserves recognition, no matter how he died," Klein said.

Bulldozer Is Used by Five in Escape

BERLIN (AP)—Rags and steel plates protected five young refugees from Communist gunfire as they crashed into West Berlin in a bulldozer.

Two young men, their pregnant wives, and the 4-year-old son of one of the couples crouched Sunday in the speeding bulldozer as it crossed two ditches and crashed through four barbed-wire fences before hitting a tree a few yards inside West Berlin.

Two East German border guards ran toward the vehicle with submachine guns blazing.

"We had to get out of the bulldozer. The women jumped first, then we pulled up the bottom of a (garden) fence, let the women crawl through, and followed them," the 24-year-old professional bulldozer operator related.

A witness said one of the refugees, carrying the child in his arms, repeatedly cried "Are we in the West? Are we in the West?"

They were taken to a hospital, where one man and one woman were treated for slight bullet wounds of the head and released.

West Berlin police said East German border guards fired more than 100 rounds at the fleeing vehicle. Thirty-eight bullets hit it, some piercing the thin armor plating, police said.

The driver explained that they had only enough armor plate to shield the gas tank and windshields.

"We stuffed rags into the back of the bulldozer's cabin
